WEATHER—Fair tonight and Thursday, freezing temperature tonight. Not so cold Thursday.

To unfortunate husbands, the idea of allowing women to speak at a peace conference will appear as ludicrous.

The general impression is that if Thaw will stick to his defense of insanity he will be able to make it stick next time.

Mrs. Holman has recovered sufficiently from her indisposition since Friday to give out a statement.

Some physician who wishes to immortalize himself should discover that the old world has again advanced the theory that this explains these periodical shakings.

Evenly's mother now seems to regret the fact that she was not made the confidant of her daughter so she could have killed Stanford White. This is much like developing expert corn cutters among the stove in a country store along about Christmas time.

The members of the city council evidently had their wits with them Monday night when the matter of appropriating money for the payment of for supervisors to superintend the collection of the poll tax and supervise the work which was sought to be done upon the streets by men who chose to work two days rather than pay the two dollars required by law. Council refused to make the appropriation asked for and thereby put a quietus upon the speculation and talk of about the enforcement of the poll tax law.

It is doubtful whether it was ever intended that the law should be enforced in cities like Marion. It is a fact that the law has not been in effect in cities of the state and the proposition to enforce it here caused quite a stir. The Board of Public Service could do nothing more than to make the request for an appropriation, thereby relieving its members of all responsibility. Councils refusal to make the appropriation meets with the hearty approval of all citizens and councils has proven that in this measure it has a level head.

SAUCE FOR GOOSE; SAUCE FOR GANDER.

Councilmen Phillips and Wilson at the Monday night's meeting of council went upon record as being in favor of admitting asphalt paving companies to bids upon paving contracts where the property owners have asked for brick pavings. Their theory probably being that if the asphalt companies submit a bid which is lower than the brick paving companies, then the city and the property owners should be given the benefit of the paving at a lower figure. No one can dispute the business principle involved in such a stand. It is presumed that the property owners petitioned for brick, because they believed it to be the cheaper paving and that if asphalt were offered to them at the same or a less figure, they would be willing to change their petition and ask for asphalt. policy of competitive bidding is the one for which the Mirror has been contending, but it maintains that it must apply in all cases. If asphalt companies are to be permitted to bid upon streets where the petition specifies brick, then in all justice, brick paving companies must be permitted to bid for contracts where asphalt is stipulated as the material.

Messrs. Phillips and Wilson have gone upon record as favoring competitive bidding for paving contracts, and they cannot change their position and do it gracefully.

Dynamite Explosion Takes Place at LaRue.

Three Year Old John Dickason Places Caps on Kitchen Stove.

Little John Dickason, aged three, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dickason of LaRue narrowly escaped death Wednesday morning about 9 o'clock when he secured some dynamite caps and innocently placed them on the stove.

A terrible explosion resulted but otherwise than sustaining a severely burned face and hands the child miraculously escaped serious injury. Mrs. Dickason who was standing near was cut and burned by flying pieces of brass. The caps had been purchased by Mr. Dickason to be used in blowing out stumps on his farm and the child had unbeknown to the parents gained possession of them.

FOREIGNERS ENGAGE IN LIVELY FIGHT

Kovosh Soaks Yonkoveskey With a Hammer.

Injured Man Says the Hungarians Still Very Hostile Toward Him, a Pole

In a fight at the Malleable Iron shops this morning about 11 o'clock, Peter Yonkoveskey, a Pole, was severely injured about the face and head by S. Kovosh, a Hungarian. Both of the men work in the moulding room at the Malleable shops.

The injured man appeared at the mayor's office this afternoon and filed an affidavit against his assailant. He told the mayor in broken English that the Hungarians are very hostile toward him, and that they do not want him to work there. He is the only workman of his nationality at the shops.

The complainant had a severe cut on his skull, one eye was bruised, and he was otherwise hurt. He was struck with a heavy hammer. He says he gave his assailant no provocation for the attack.

The case will be heard in the mayor's court this evening.

Carl Werley, who was arrested for failure to observe the saloon closing ordinances, will be given a hearing in the mayor's court late this afternoon.

The police are being called upon daily to handle a large number of complaints concerning dogs, chickens and cows which are allowed to run at liberty. In some cases the officers can adjust matters to the satisfaction of all concerned, but more often the contrary is true. The city council has been asked to pass some ordinances that will give the cops authority to dispose of cases of this nature.

LIVERY STABLE BURNED AT AGOSTA

Fire Does Damage to the Amount of $1500

Walter Hickman Plays Role of Hero Rescuing Two Horses From Building.

The Agosta livery barn owned and managed by Mr. Chaney Godfrey was totally destroyed by fire at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning. The fire broke out in the roof shortly after two o'clock, thought to have become ignited by a spark from a locomotive.

The members of the bucket brigade turned out en masse and put up a heroic fight to save the building but their efforts were fruitless and soon their attention was given to saving the adjoining buildings.

Walter Hickman, a young man of the village proved a real hero on the occasion, rushing into the burning building when at any moment the roof threatened to fall and blindfolding two horses, the only live stock in the barn, led them out saving them from death.

Five fine buggies and several tons of hay were destroyed with the barn. The damage will exceed $1500 and is covered by insurance to the extent of $1000.

BURNED TO GROUND

Historic Residence of John Woods is Destroyed.

The residence of John Woods located north of Caledonia and one of the oldest homesteads in the county was practically destroyed by fire about 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The house was an old brick mansion said to be over 100 years old.

The fire broke out in the roof igniting from a defective chimney flue and owing to the high wind blaze was soon beyond control. All of the household furniture down stairs was saved but the furnishings in the second story were totally destroyed. The building was not insured and the loss will aggregate $1000.

Geer Who was Arrested and Fined Now Brings Charges Against Vanatta.

Last week Randolph Vanatta of Caledonia filed an affidavit against Eldo Geer of that village charging him with violating the fish laws by being a scine. Wednesday Geer appeared before Mayor Gruber and filed an affidavit against Vanatta charging him with aiding and abetting in breaking the fish laws.

It seems as though Vanatta rented Geer a rig and requested him to bring him some fish last week when the latter broke the fish law. In the meantime the men had engaged in some sort of a trivial quarrel and it's said through suite work Vanatta filed the charges against Geer compelling him to pay a $25 fine. Geer has turned aggressor now and seems determined to get revenge. Mayor Gruber set the hearing for Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

PENNSYLVANIA AND NEW YORK CAPITOLS, WHICH CAUSED GRAFT SCANDALS.

The two most populous states in the Union, New York and Pennsylvania, have built new capitols within recent years, and charges of astounding graft have followed the dedication of each. The Pennsylvania capitol at Harrisburg, completed last year, is the latest. It is alleged that millions of dollars were stolen in the construction of this building. A rigid investigation is being made. The New York capitol at Albany, completed a few years ago, is said to have cost the state $20,000,000, but there are plenty of contractors who would like to duplicate it for half the money.
